A memorial service is a time for family members and friends to gather in memory of our loved ones. It's held in gratefulness for the Compassion of Amida Buddha who is always embracing our loved ones and each of us warmly and gently. This is also a precious opportunity for family and friends to reflect upon their lives while remembering departed loved ones. You may schedule this memorial service on the memorial day listed above, or either before or after the day whichever is most convenient. Please contact Puna Hongwanji at (808) 966-9981 or email at mpunahongwanji@twc.com.

Zoom online service is also available.

Minister's Message

Have you ever wondered what the most popular song in the world is? The internet provides various criteria for measuring popularity, including sales, online views, familiarity among people, and awards. Some well-known songs that frequently appear on these lists include “White Christmas,” “Despacito” by Luis Fonsi ft. Daddy Yankee (with a staggering 8.1 billion views on YouTube), and Michael Jackson’s iconic “Billie Jean.” However, let’s take a moment to consider a different kind of popular song. Imagine a tune that almost everyone knows, regardless of age or background. For me, that song is “Happy Birthday.” The melody for “Happy Birthday” dates back to the 1890s and was composed by two American sisters: Patty Hill (a schoolteacher) and Mildred Hill (a pianist and composer). Initially, they created it for a song called “Good Morning to All,” intending it to be simple enough for kindergarten students to sing:

Good morning to you, good morning to you, good morning, dear teacher, good morning to all.

Over the years, the lyrics evolved, and we arrived at the familiar “Happy Birthday” we know today. What makes this song truly special is the heartwarming tradition associated with it. What I have observed is that whenever “Happy Birthday” plays—whether at restaurants or anyplace—everyone joins in singing. The room fills with love and joy. It’s a beautiful melody that celebrates life and connection. Yet, have you ever wondered about those who might not want to hear it? Perhaps there are individuals who feel undeserving, who see themselves as meaningless or useless. Or maybe they’re surrounded by people who withhold their blessings. In a world where “Happy Birthday” is a universal anthem, there are still those who remain untouched by its warmth.

The song that is meant to celebrate one’s birthday can sometimes transform into a cruel and harsh melody. I’ve found myself in that very situation. My family and friends gathered around, singing the familiar tune for me. I mustered a fake smile, but deep within my heart, I felt emptiness and pain. How could I associate my birth with happiness when life weighed so heavily upon me? Our society grapples with myriad challenges, from family issues and abuse to strained human relationships, stress, mental illness, racism, and the haunting echoes of PTSD, and more. For some, life feels far from joyful, and their own existence becomes a burden. In this darkness, what wisdom can the Buddha’s teachings offer? The Buddha, in the profound compassion, recognized the suffering inherent in human existence. The teachings emphasize the impermanence of all things—the fleeting nature of joy and sorrow alike. The teachings invite us to look beyond the surface and seek a deeper understanding.

First and foremost, through the eyes of Wisdom, the Buddha embraces all lives without discrimination, refraining from labeling or passing judgment. Imagine each life as a radiant diamond, and the Buddha’s vow is to alleviate suffering and bestow boundless bliss upon all, transcending every obstacle. In this compassionate gaze, the Buddha perceives the pains of each individual. With non-dualistic wisdom, the Buddha accepts and embraces every person as they are: “Your happiness is my happiness; your pain is my pain.” These words resonate with profound compassion and eye-opening insight. When I encountered this vigorous compassion, it transformed my perspective. My life, with all its struggles and pains, was acknowledged and accepted, even if I wasn’t aware of it. Gradually, this ultimate acceptance has transformed life’s bitterness into a delicate bittersweetness, even though the pain still lingers.

Now, let's explore another facet of existence. In our society, much is predetermined by our birth. Factors such as skin color, race, country, region, culture, customs, thought patterns, environment, education, and financial circumstances and others are bestowed upon us at birth. While every child deserves equal opportunities, choices, joy, and hope, reality often dictates otherwise. Birth becomes a defining moment, shaping futures and limiting choices. Yet, there are those who defy these constraints. Individuals who prove that birth does not dictate destiny. Still, labels cling to us from the very beginning—etched into our lives. Reflecting on this timeless truth, we find solace in the Buddha's words: "Birth doesn't define reverence; actions do." Our existence transcends mere script; it is the choices we make that imbue life with meaning.

In our reality, there exist situations where lives are rejected, ignored, or forced to wear masks to fit into society. Some may not perceive their birth and existence as precious due to factors such as identity, disabilities, illness, physical appearance, and the complex web of conditions that render the "Happy Birthday" song a bitter melody. Yet, Amida Buddha's Great Wisdom opens my eyes. It invites me to see beyond my preferences and judgments—to perceive through the lens of the Buddha's teachings. In this compassionate gaze, we recognize that our judgmental eyes often cloud our vision. Amida's warm embrace never wavers; it accepts, envelops, and nurtures even when we feel lost and rejected. Within Amida's compassionate refuge, every single person finds comfort. The wish echoes: Namo Amida Butsu. Shinran Shonin, the founder of the Jodo Shinshu tradition, understood that while Sakyamuni Buddha imparted many teachings, the Buddha's ultimate intention was to share the essence of Namo Amida Butsu with you and me.

Today, let us joyfully celebrate the birth of Sakyamuni Buddha, the one who unveiled the teachings of Namo Amida Butsu. And as we nestle into Amida's compassionate arms, may we discover the profound joy of being embraced by vigorous compassion and eye-opening wisdom. In that warm and sacred embrace, the song of "Happy Birthday" resonates anew within our hearts. So, I can say "I'm happy to be born as I am, embracing all that life brings, as I am never truly alone in Amida's embrace."

世界には数えきれないほどの歌がありますが、多くの方が聞いたことある歌がお誕生日の歌ではないでしょうか。ハッピーバースデー トゥーユーの歌です。幸せな歌ですが、この歌を聞くのが辛い人がいると思いますか？人生の苦悩に直面し、死にたいほどの抱えきれない辛さを持っている人にとっては、誕生日おめでとう、という言葉が心に辛く突き刺さります。むしろ、なぜ生まれたのだろうか、どうしてこんな辛い毎日を過ごさなければならぬのだろうか、という問いは誰もが一度は考えることかもしれません。

みなさんは、「今、幸せですか」と聞かれたら、なんと答えますか？「はい」と問題なく答える人は少なそうで、色々あるけど、まあ幸せかなあという人が多い気がします。それは、私たちが苦楽の人生を生きているからでしょうか。自分のそして周りの人の幸せを願いつつ、なぜか（喜）怒哀（楽）が毎日の生活に来てしまいます。そして、肌の色、国、親、家庭環境など生まれによるもので人生をいのちを否定されたら、どのように思うのでしょうか。残念ながら私たちが生きるこの社会は、生まれや見た目によって差別、レッテルを貼り、自分の都合よく人やものごとを見るものになっています。仏教を開いたお釈迦さまは、「人は生まれではなく、行いによって尊い」と教えてくださいました。人として生まれた以上、老病死、嫌いな人に会うこと、大事な人・物との別れ、思う通りにならない、そして心と体がいつも痛みを運んでくる、ということをお避けることができません。でも、避けようとして、なんとか思う通りにしようとして苦しむ私の姿をご覧になり、阿弥陀様が必ず救うと誓ってくださったのです。

差別無き曇りなき眼で真実を見る智慧に導かれ、私の都合で物事や人を見る私の姿が知らされます。この上なくやさしい心である慈悲に抱かれ、だれにも言えない私が抱えるいろんな苦痛や苦悩を、一緒に引き受けてくださる存在を知らされます。どんなことがあっても、どんなあなたになっても、必ず救うと誓われたのが南無阿弥陀仏です。悩みや苦しみはそこにあるながらも、新しい視座を与えられ、苦楽を引き受けて、智慧と慈悲に導かれていく阿弥陀様とご一緒の人生です。マラソンを一人で歩くのは辛いですが、応援を受け、ともに歩むマラソンは辛くも一歩一歩、止まったりしながら進めます。人生何があるかわからずまた終わりもいつかは分かりません。でも、阿弥陀様と共に歩むいのちは、喜びも分かち合い、悲しみも一緒に悲しんでくれる、有難いいのちでもあるのです。

4月はこの南無阿弥陀仏を届けてくださったお釈迦様のご誕生をお祝いする花まつりがあります。ただただ生まれ死に行くいのちではなく、私のいのちの在り方を知らせ、阿弥陀様に抱かれ安らかに日々を送り、最後の一息つくときお浄土に生まれるいのちを今生きている、このことを思いながら、花祭りをお迎えさせていただきましょ。そのまま まかせよ 必ず救うよ、親だからね、のお念仏です。

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I would like to thank Stan and Karen Mason for chairing our very successful rummage sale held on March 9th. Thank you to everyone who donated items and thank you to all of our members and friends that came out daily for two weeks prior to and those that came on the day of the event . It was a lot of hard work but it was well worth it and because of Stan and Karen, I know people had fun.

I am looking forward to our upcoming Children's Day event on April 20th. The planning committee is working hard to put on a great event. Pahala Hongwanji Taiko is having their sushi fundraiser and we will also be selling food so if you are able to help with the preparation, please let me know.

I'm sure you've noticed that we have a fish vendor that is using our gravel parking area near Longs Drugs to sell ahi. Ellie Girls fishing has been renting space from us since August of last year and they are doing well. We also just added another vendor, Hawaicanos Taqueria, who is there on Friday's and Saturday's so if you like Mexican Food, please check them out.

It looks like we are off to a great start in 2024. On behalf of Puna Hongwanji, thank you for all your support.

PROJECT DANA

Stella Miyashiro asked me to do the Project Dana article this month. It won't be the same as Stella's updates, but I will do my best.

Last week, we distributed Easter treats with Wednesday bentos. I wanted to get a picture of Kazumasa Okamoto receiving his Easter treat, but he wasn't home. I did get a picture of Claire Arakawa with her bentos and Easter treats to be delivered in Paho

I really recommend the Wednesday bento program for our senior members and non-members. It is more than just delivering bentos. It is an opportunity to interact with them, see how they are doing. Delivering bentos on Wednesday is an opportunity to do a wellness check. It is a good time to just talk story with someone who may not have a lot of social interaction.

Several of our volunteers stopped by to wish Mieko Nagao a happy birthday. Stopping by were, Stella Miyashiro, Eileen Hara, Eileen Usagawa and Lei Kakugawa

Project Dana provides a variety of services to senior members of our community. We deliver bentos once a week, provide transportation for doctor visits, make visits to care homes, and organize outings to various events, like the Cherry Blossom Festival, the Orchid Show, and a visit to the Japanese Cultural Center. If you know of anyone who could benefit from these programs, please encourage them to contact Stella Miyashiro, or myself, Richard Solie

I did get a picture of Mr. Okamoto this week and he gave me permission to post it with this article.

BWA

Two weeks before March 9th was a busy time for BWA and temple members as they prepared for the Temples' rummage sale. It was a time to clean out one's house to look for saleable items that we no longer fit into or needed for the rummage sale. Members washed and sorted, items to make them into saleable condition. The ladies worked very hard to display the merchandise appealing to the eye. On March 9th, the social Hall was ready for the eager customers.

Thanks to Stan and Karen Mason who co-chaired the event . . . who kept us well fed daily with delicious snacks and lunches and to all the members who diligently came whenever they could to prepare the items for sale, the day rummage sale was a success!! Thank you also to friends of Puna Hongwanji who also came to help.. We couldn't have done it without your support.

BWA members watch how to start making a lei

Claire demonstrates how to make the ribbon lei.

Chairperson Eileen Usagawa prepared the ribbons for each lei.

March 24th was also a busy time: Spring Ohigan, Shinen Enkai, and Keirosha. Claire Arakawa Volunteered to teach/refresh our memories on how to make leis for the 16 honorees who made or will make 80 years old this year. The honorees were presented with a lei, plaque, and gift certificate. Happy 80th Birthday to you!!!
